Kurt Singer, adept in the misterie of spine-chilling, invites you to take a nerve-wracking ride on his
HORROR OMNIBUS

'There is a story about a witch burnt and a curse laid in Last Act: October by Tigrina (decidedly ominous), an African one concerning pigmies, in Edward Lusac White's Lukundoo, a disturbing science-fiction vision of the end of the world in The Last Dawn by Frank Lillie Pollock, and something very unpleasant that comes out of the water in Frank Belknap Long's The Man with a Thousand Legs.
And that's not all, either. By no means.
Horror addicts may buy with confidence of being turned suitably off-white'
